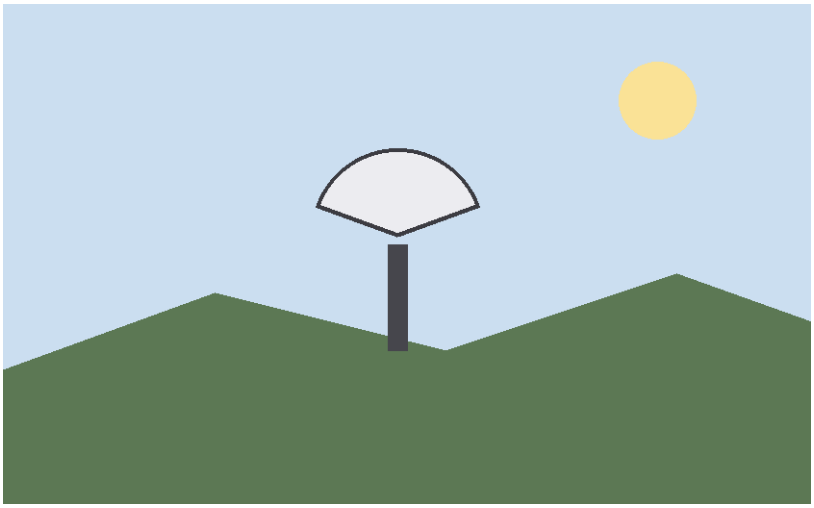
Kestrel Ground Station Modernization

Request for Proposal KGS-26-R-0007



Issued 12 November 2026

Proposals due 15 December 2026, 2:00 PM Mountain

L.1 General Instructions

The Offeror shall submit its proposal in three volumes as described in this section. Each volume shall be complete in itself so that evaluation of one volume may be accomplished independently of the others. The Government will evaluate proposals in accordance with Section M of this solicitation.

L.1.1 Proposal Format

Proposals shall be prepared on 8.5 by 11 inch pages with one inch margins. Text shall be no smaller than 11-point Times New Roman. Text in tables and figures shall be no smaller than 9-point. Page limits are stated in Table L-1 and shall not be exceeded.

Volume	Title	Page limit
I	Technical Approach	25 pages
II	Management Approach	15 pages
III	Price	No limit

Table L-1. Volumes and page limits

L.2 Technical Volume

The Offeror shall describe its approach to operating the Kestrel ground station twenty-four hours a day. The description shall address antenna scheduling, anomaly response and the transition from the incumbent system shown in Figure L-1.

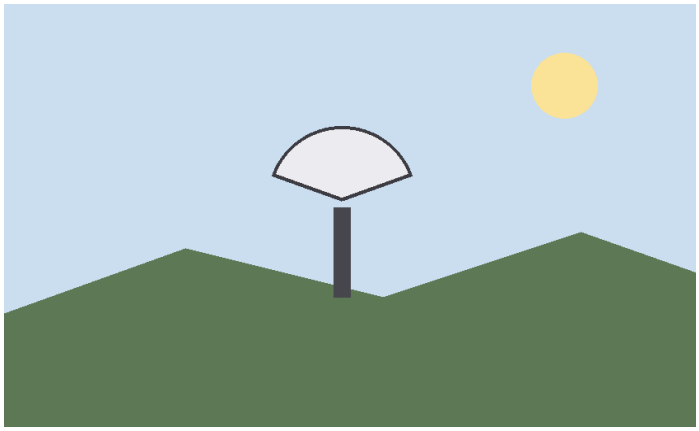


Figure L-1. Kestrel ground station architecture

The Offeror shall identify the key personnel proposed for the effort and shall provide a resume for each. Resumes do not count against the page limit of Volume I.

L.2.1 Antenna Scheduling

The Offeror shall explain how contacts are deconflicted across the antenna network, how priority missions preempt routine contacts, and how the schedule is published to mission operations. Paragraph 1 of the scheduling discussion continues so that the text runs onto another page of the document.

The Offeror shall explain how contacts are deconflicted across the antenna network, how priority missions preempt routine contacts, and how the schedule is published to mission operations. Paragraph

2 of the scheduling discussion continues so that the text runs onto another page of the document.

The Offeror shall explain how contacts are deconflicted across the antenna network, how priority missions preempt routine contacts, and how the schedule is published to mission operations. Paragraph 3 of the scheduling discussion continues so that the text runs onto another page of the document.

The Offeror shall explain how contacts are deconflicted across the antenna network, how priority missions preempt routine contacts, and how the schedule is published to mission operations. Paragraph 4 of the scheduling discussion continues so that the text runs onto another page of the document.

The Offeror shall explain how contacts are deconflicted across the antenna network, how priority missions preempt routine contacts, and how the schedule is published to mission operations. Paragraph 5 of the scheduling discussion continues so that the text runs onto another page of the document.

The Offeror shall explain how contacts are deconflicted across the antenna network, how priority missions preempt routine contacts, and how the schedule is published to mission operations. Paragraph 6 of the scheduling discussion continues so that the text runs onto another page of the document.

The Offeror shall explain how contacts are deconflicted across the antenna network, how priority missions preempt routine contacts, and how the schedule is published to mission operations. Paragraph 7 of the scheduling discussion continues so that the text runs onto another page of the document.

The Offeror shall explain how contacts are deconflicted across the antenna network, how priority missions preempt routine contacts, and how the schedule is published to mission operations. Paragraph 8 of the scheduling discussion continues so that the text runs onto another page of the document.

The Offeror shall explain how contacts are deconflicted across the antenna network, how priority missions preempt routine contacts, and how the schedule is published to mission operations. Paragraph 9 of the scheduling discussion continues so that the text runs onto another page of the document.

L.3 Management Volume

The Offeror shall describe its management approach, organization and lines of authority. The Offeror shall provide a transition plan covering the first ninety days after award.